A MESSAGE FROM THE MINISTER

As Interim Moderator of St. Columba in French Creek, I have become quite familiar with both HWY 19 and 19A. Depending on time, responsibility and whether or not we're driving it over the dinner hour, we pick which route to take. While the 19 is quick, very quick with its 120 km/h speed limit, it is not as scenic, and while the 19A takes about half an hour longer it is rather pretty, with lots of views of the coastline and places to stop for a bite.

Sometimes we combine the two and take the 19A until Buckley Bay and then take the exit to the 19. What I have discovered, however, is how we grow accustomed to the environment around us, and what once seemed unique or quaint or even shocking becomes commonplace.

We even end up not noticing things around us. I think it took at least a dozen times passing the Sandbar Cafe in Qualicum Bay before I realized that they had a huge wooden fish sitting in a canoe in front of their building, or that there is a large loon at a shop called Things'n'Stuff just a little further down the road. This is in part because when on this drive it has been to get to or from St. Columba- my mind has been focused on a particular destination and so I miss the unique and odd things along the way.

Throughout the summer we followed the Gospel of Luke from chapters 9-15 which is most often called the "travel accounts" of Jesus. This is because Jesus leaves Galilee for Jerusalem- setting his focus upon that final destination. What strikes me, however, is that while Jesus is travelling toward Jerusalem, the city in which he will die, he still has time to stop and preach, heal, teach, and prophesy to a multitude of people. No matter how focused he is on his final Destination, he is still able to notice those in the crowd who are hurting, who are unique and who are searching for answers.

Instead of taking the quick road to Jerusalem he takes the scenic route, and stops often along the way. He stops in at the home of Mary and Martha and explains that sometimes we need to put our daily chores aside to focus on God; He teaches the disciples how to pray the ever important Lord's Prayer; He warns that through him families will be divided and He shares the popular parables of the lost sheep, coin and prodigal son. Jerusalem is looming ahead of Him and yet He still has time to minister.

This is an important lesson for me as I hurry down the road to various Search Committee and Session meetings but it is also an important lesson for all of us. While the destination is often important, we sometimes need to stop and take in the scenery, refuel not only the vehicle but ourselves, and sit and learn from some of the unique people along the way.

This fall we plan on providing some of those moments in which we can refresh and refuel. Starting Sept. 23rd we will offer a Communion Service every fourth Friday of the month at 4:30pm. These services will have a Celtic contemplative feel, will be by intinction (participants will be invited to come forward to take the bread and dip it in the juice), gluten free and open to anyone. Bringing a friend is encouraged! I am also interested in leading another Bible Study, but would love your input. Is there a book of the Bible or theme that you would like to study? Please let me know!

A reminder that everyone is invited for a time of Fellowship following the service on Sept. 11th for a hot dog BBQ!

FELLOWSHIP GROUP NEWS

The Fellowship group is busy planning for the next four months.

On Sept. 13 we will be having a potluck lunch at Julie McWilliam's house at 1377 Ocean Drive in Comox. We will be happy to organize a ride for you; just let us know on the sign up sheet.

We plan to have a fashion show later this all.

The volunteers from the Fellowship group who help host events are aging, and so we are thinking about changing some of our traditional event. One idea we are exploring is a Christmas Tea with traditional baking and entertainment.

Everyone is welcome to be part of this group. Please come to the potluck on Sept. 13 or any of the regular meetings on the first Tuesday of the month at 11 am in the church.

More information needed? Questions? Call Maryka Wester at 250-897-1948.

SERENITY PARK

A place that's not just of the mind
 A creation simple in its kind
 A wordless beauty all its own
 Made up of trees, plants and stone
 A softness, warmth and peace of mind
 Is what the open heart will find
 Tis human made and with great love
 Surely created by one above

No man with his human thought Could possibly its beauty brought
 For all to see and smell and touch
 For ordinary man it would be too much
 God's creatures in it do abound
 Deer, birds, and blossoms all around
 No ordinary place is this
 It's got the feel of heaven's kiss

WINTER- SUMMER- FALL -&- SPRING

Icy winds that chill the bones
 Cheery fires do warm the homes
 Trees stand naked in their place
 Its time they know to still their pace
 Soft bits of snow will start to fall
 This crisp white blanket covers all
 Snowmen and sleighs start to appear
 You know that winters really here
 It won't stay long and it will bring
 The things that then will herald spring
 The birds, the buds, on plants and trees
 Will hurry forth for all to see
 New life begins in everything
 And birds with vigor start to sing

The rich warm earth will then bring forth
 A new seasons growth of broom and gorse
 And tulips, daffs and apple trees
 Blossoms caressed by springtime breeze
 Next we summer enter in
 And some complain its hot as sin
 But really we should not complain
 If we make ourselves feel winter again
 All too soon will come the fall
 Its subtle changes touching all
 Some birds have gone but some have stayed
 Their winter home securely made
 For back to winter we have come
 Another year is all but done....
